

Top streaming tips for Team Ambitious

Bring your online community together to raise awareness and vital funds in support of autistic children and young people. Level up your impact by hosting a fundraising livestream today.

Here are some tips to get you started.

Set a fundraising target

Let your audience know your donation goal and how their support will help autistic children and young people. Share stories to show the impact of their generosity!

Get your viewers involved

Make it fun – offer donation rewards like challenges, shoutouts, or letting viewers decide your next move. The more interactive, the better.

Spread the word early

Start shouting about your stream across social media and get friends, family, and fellow streamers involved.

Sort your tech

Test your gear before going live to avoid any hiccups. Use platforms like Tiltify so viewers can donate easily and see your progress in real time!

Thank your supporters

Keep the energy high, have fun, and thank every single donor – whether it's a big or small amount, every bit helps make a huge difference.
